FLOGGED TO DEATH.

THE GEORGIA REGULATORS AGAIN.

Cava, Nov. 2.—A bullet has just reached from Dooley county of the death of a colored man named House from a flogging administered to him by a committee of regulators. Last March a young farmer named Dooley, who had been married but a few weeks, left his wife screaming. Running up to his house, he entered the front door only to see the retreat of a negro holding in his hand a batte knife, the blade of which was covered with blood. Dolles hurried into the bedchamber where he found his wife on the floor, in the agony of death. She was shockingly maimed and disfigured. Her clothes were aslashed in the flames of Mars, a man of the law, collector, Hillsdale, seized all whisky and brandy for condemnation, there being over 150 barrels. Mr. Mason and Mr. Mitchell, who compose the firm, have hitherto been men of the highest standing and the last persons in Warner county to have been subjected to such unlawful and fraudulent conduct. It is understood other parties have been implicated and it is expected they will be brought to justice.

Out-side of town, the family had settled with people. The family, a delegation of neighbors from Orange and a committee of the Loyal Legion took carriages and were driven to the Pennsylvania railway depot where a special train stood waiting to receive the body. The train steamed out of the depot for Troy, and so far as the body will take place. As the funeral procession moved from the church to the depot, it was received with marked courtesy by the people who hurried along the sidewalk. Harts were lifted and many a tear fell from the eyes of veterans. The casket was closed and dead bearers followed. The simplicity of the procession was noticeable. Nothing about it gave any indication whatever of the dead hero. There were no soldiers in line, no band of music, nor draped colors. The funeral procession, so far as anyone on display was concerned, might have been that of any well-to-do citizen.

A Judge's Fate.

PEORIA, Ills., Nov. 2.—Ex-Judge John C. Stump was found lying on a bench in his lot on the corner of State and Madison Saturday evening. He had been shot in the back, and his body was left hanging there before it was cut down. Last night another member of the House family, who had been living at a distance, made his appearance in the community and began inquiring among his race about the movements of parties who were plotting against him. He exhibited to his listeners a razor which he had had out the jugular veins of three persons and before the week passed the sister of the murdered woman would feel across her throat. These facts were reported to the whites and created consternation among the women.

A number of men, who were the principals in the lynching, had been arrested and seized. At midnight, two black men, who where they stripped them to the waist, wrapping his arms around a tree, and flogged him, inflicting according to some reports 500 lashes. They then turned him loose and separated. In the morning his dead body was found on the road, he having been unable to reach home.

Robbed by Masked Men.

DELTON, Tex., Nov. 2.—Last night at 11:30 o'clock P. S. BANNER, mail-order express agent, returned home from a church entertainment, and after partly undressing went to the front door to close it. He was met by two masked men who had broken into his business with him at the depot, and he was also told that his family would be guarded by one of them while he was taken to the office by the other. Arriving there he was compelled to open the safe. The amount taken therewas $1,200. The express company lost nearly that amount, and the railroad company lost only $100. After the money was secured Mr. BANNER was told to come out of the office, the robber backing from him some distance and then running sixty yards, when he was joined by another companion. Mr. BANNER gave them both and the citizens, hearing the report, gathered around and captured the Woodrow, living near where the agent lives, shot off a pistol, and the robber who was at the agent's house ran off. There were three men in the robbery, but Mr. BANNER can describe but one of them. He was a young man with dark eyes and with a scar on his forehead. The robbers had the appearance in dress and manners of city bred men and are, no doubt, experienced crooks and highwaymen. They were extremely cool and courteous. They sat down in the agent's bedroom and chatted pleasantly while he and his wife were completely at their mercy. The left hand of each was covered by a neat kidgloving glove. They are believed to be the three men who robbed the four farmers near Waco on Thursday last.

A Thief Whipped.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 2.—The preliminary trial of Tom Constock for the killing of his father a week ago is set for to-morrow. He was brought to his home and laid last evening in his bed, his heart failing him. His wife, a widow, was deeply grieved, but said she did it for fun; that he had nothing against his father. He is considered deranged mentally.

GENERAL GRANT'S KNIFE.

Found in Parker's Creek—How It Got There—$100 Paid for It.

It had been a handsome knife in the days when a hand now cold and still in Riverside park would want to grasp it. Even now the tortoise shell handle, with its gold lining and green leather scabbard, is a picture to behold. The old lady went down town and warned the druggists not to sell any poison to her daughter, but Miss Georgia went to a neighbor's house, took a morphine bottle from the medicine chest, and swallowed it. Then she went to another neighbor's, lay down on a bed and was soon fast asleep. Several attempts were made to arouse her without effect. A physician was called in and, not understanding midwife did but assist, by a number of others, succeeded in resuscitating her. She is now considered out of danger. A low affair is said to be at the bottom of her trouble.

For this section: Fair weather, winds shifting to southwardly; falling barometer. State of the thermometer Nov. 2, furnished by G. B. Lichtenberg, optician, 715 Main st.: A.M., 58°; 8 o'clock, 57°; 12 o'clock, 58°; 4 p.m., 62°; 10 o'clock, 42°.

Aneroid barometer—8 o'clock a.m., 30.30; 12 m., 30.35.

TIDE people along the line of the proposed Nebraska & Northwestern road are enthusiastic in its behalf, and are holding meetings and subscribing liberally for its construction. The road would tap a territory of great value to Kansas City, and interest should not be allowed to lag until trains are running.

WITH cable roads to the city limits on Ninth street, Independence avenue, Fifth street, Twelfth street, Fifteenth street and Grand avenue, and an elevated road to Wyandotte and embankments, Kansas City will have street railroad facilities in advance of any city of its size in the country. We are promised all these in two more years. Yet one year ago we were dependent wholly on CROMIGAN's abominations. Competition solved our street railroad troubles.

TO-MORROW elections occur in New York, and unless all indications are at fault, the Republicans will carry the day. The well-known connection of the Democratic candidate for governor with TWEED has seriously weakened his cause and the support given by the mugwumps to DAVENPORT has greatly strengthened the latter gentleman's chance of success. The Democrats have already begun to cry fraud, and this is a pretty good indication that they have abandoned hope.

CLEARING house reports for the last week of October indicate that not only is business reviving but that it is actually booming. For last week the clearings of the whole country showed a gain of 40.7 per cent over the corresponding week last year, and outside of New York 12.6 per cent. Twenty-one cities reported heavy clearings than last year, and but six less. New York led in the number of pieces of increase, with 51.6. Kansas City being second with 35.2. Besides these two other cities—Hartford—reported more than 30 per cent increase. Three gained between 20 and 30 per cent, eight between 10 and 20 and seven less than 10 per cent. The greatest falling off was at Pittsburg, 14.4 per cent. San Francisco fell off 12.2, Baltimore 10.7, Lowell 10.3, New Haven 8.4 and Worcester 1.6 per cent. Large gains have been the order for several weeks and the revival seems permanent.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

THE STAR again calls the attention of the city council to section 14 of the water works contract.

Said water works company binds and obligates itself during the continuance of the present cable company to furnish at all times, a full and sufficient supply of pure water, to meet the healthful wants of all inhabitants thereof, use such water to be suitable for domestic purposes.

We doubt if even the water company will pretend that the Kaw river, with the sewage from packing houses, rendering establishments and smelting works, is the kind of water provided in the contract.

The city council to-night should serve notice on the company that after June 1 next Kaw water will no longer be accepted under the contract and that unless the supply is changed to the Missouri river or before that time, proceedings will begin to banish the contract. There is ample time between now and June 1 to make the change, but there should be no delay in giving the notice. It will not do to imperil the lives and health of the inhabitants of Kansas City during another summer by forcing them to use Kaw water.

THE CABLE ROADS.

When the ordinance granting a franchise to the present cable company was being considered by the council, Mr. CORMIGAN and his attorney were of great service in suggesting amendments which would protect the public interest. It was thought by many that these amendments were intended to so handicap the franchise that the company would not accept it and thereby defeat the project entirely. Whether that was the motive or not, now of no consequence, the public received the benefit of the amendments and at the same time saved the road. It is proposed by Mr. CORMIGAN to build some cable roads on his own account, now that their success is no longer a matter of conjecture.

A mild-mannered, gentle-faced man came into the restaurant, quietly took his seat and ordered soup. The waiter brought it, and the guest proceeded to eat it. When he dipped up the second spoonful he found something on the side of the plate. The third and fourth called for similar action, and the eaters put down their spoons on the fifth round.

"Waiter!" he called.

"Yes, sir," replied that functionary, coming to him.

"What are these black objects I find in my soup?"

"Merchant Traveler."

"Yes, those."

"I reckon dey mus' be flies, boss."

"How many are there, waiter?"

"Wal, waiter, I am an officer of the Society of Prevention of Cruelty, and I enter my protest. There were five in all, water, but the first one I swallowed without protest, because I am no kicker and expect at least one fly in my soup, and when come to five, and the rest of the water not been taken from my soup, as S. P. C. A. officer been sent to my home to take my taste, and on behalf of the innocent insects I hereby enter my protest. You will please report the fact to the proprietor, and carry this soup to the cashier, in order that he can let me settle my bill. I've had as much as I can stand."

It was a sad sight when the pale wagon came for the man who was not a kicker.

Suits for Divorce.

Suits for divorce were filed as follows, today, showing that department on a boom, with a probable determination to usurp the Westport line, and will run in connection with the Westport line, and the engine house will probably be located at or near Fourteenth street and Grand avenue. This will furnish power for the three roads.

It is understood that the suit between Mr. WALTER HOLMES and Mrs. HOLMES for the Westport line, and this amount will probably represent his interest in the new cable company. The capital stock will be increased enough to meet the cost of converting the Westport line into a cable road, and also of building the other lines. It is not definitely known, but it is expected that the suit will be settled in favor of Mr. WALTER HOLMES.
